STATUS UPDATE

Mr. Bright's first term of supervision was revoked on January 12, 2023, due to his failure to make his special assessment fee payment. A new term of supervision was imposed by U.S. District Judge Freda L. Wolfson, with the understanding that his one-year term of supervised release could be terminated as soon as the special assessment was satisfied.

Mr. Bright expressed the desire to attend school in New Hampshire to obtain a certification in heavy equipment construction and was approved to attend this program out of state, with the understanding that if he could pay $19,000 for school, he would have to make every effort to pay off his special assessment fee. The undersigned officer has attempted to remind Mr. Bright of his commitment to pay the criminal monetary penalty that he owes, but Mr. Bright has made little to no effort in attempting to make payments, not even in a nominal amount, despite the undersigned officer's constant reminders. Mr. Bright had sporadic employment during this time, with him quitting two jobs and not advising the undersigned officer of these changes. Since his revocation hearing last year, Mr. Bright has made a total of $225 towards the $2,700 special assessment fee; his balance is $2,075.

The undersigned officer has submitted Mr. Bright's information to the Financial Litigation Unit with the US Attorney's Office, and they have advised that they will garnish any money that may be found in Mr. Bright's financial accounts to satisfy the special assessment balance. It is thereby requested that Your Honor allow the expiration of supervised release, which is scheduled for November 19, 2023.
